

HOW TO USE THE PSE APPROACH FOR CREATING HEALTHY COMMUNITIES

Policy, systems and environment (PSE) change differs greatly from programs. PSE change is sustainable throughout time while programs are temporary. The two approaches can work hand-in-hand, but PSE change seeks to go beyond programming and into the systems that create the structures in which we live, learn, work, pray and play.

Join us and the University of South Carolina Arnold School of Public Health experts as we discuss PSE change and provide real-life examples across South Carolina. This webinar is for anyone working to increase access to healthy choices, especially healthy eating and active living.

March 21, 2023
@ 10 a.m.

REGISTER NOW

KELSEY SANDERS, MPH

Community Relations Manager
Wholespire

ZACHARY HERRNSTADT, MS

SNAP-Ed Program Coordinator
USC Arnold School of Public Health

ASHLEY PAGE BOOKHART, MSW

SNAP-Ed Program Coordinator
USC Arnold School of Public Health

